

Reflexive pronouns (tandem exercise)

Fill in the correct personal pronoun or reflexive pronoun or no pronoun at all.

Example

Last week, Tom talked to ~ about the soccer game.

Last week, Tom talked to me about the soccer game.

<sortable>

Reflexive pronoun, personal pronouns or no pronoun at all?	Reflexive pronoun, personal pronouns or no pronoun at all?
1 When grandpa is alone he sometimes talks to ~.	1 When grandpa is alone he sometimes talks to himself .
2 When I won the first prize in the table tennis match, a lot of people talked to ~.	2 When I won the first prize in the table tennis match, a lot of people talked to me .
3 On Saturday, Sarah and I met ~ at the cinema to watch a movie.	3 On Saturday, Sarah and I met at the cinema to watch a movie.
4 All the kids in our class made ~ funny hats for the party.	4 All the kids in our class made themselves funny hats for the party.
5 Last weekend, I bought ~ the first ice-cream this year.	5 Last weekend, I bought myself the first ice-cream this year.
6 Do you want me to help you with your test? — No, I can do it ~.	6 Do you want me to help you with your test? — No, I can do it myself .
7 I really enjoyed myself at the party.	7 I really enjoyed ~ at the party.
8 When we put on those funny hats and looked in the mirror, we had to laugh at ourselves .	8 When we put on those funny hats and looked in the mirror, we had to laugh at ~.
9 I can show you how to make a cake. — No! I can do it myself .	9 I can show you how to make a cake. — No! I can do it ~.
10 Peter thinks that many people want to listen to him when he sings.	10 Peter thinks that many people want to listen to ~ when he sings.
11 Peter really likes to listen to himself when he sings.	11 Peter really likes to listen to ~ when he sings.
12 I ate five pieces of cake this afternoon. Now I feel terrible.	12 I ate five pieces of cake this afternoon. Now I feel ~ terrible.

</sortable>

english, exercises, grammar, tandem, folientraining