

Stressing what you want to say

- Add extra stress (Betonung) to these sentences.
- Have a look at the example in the first line of the table to understand how to do the exercise.

Unstressed sentence		Sentence with extra stress added.
Example I need a hot shower now.		Example I really need a hot shower now. OR What I need now is a hot shower.
1	I think that Cary likes Tom a lot.	1	I think that Cary does like Tom a lot. OR I think that Cary really likes Tom a lot.
2	[annoyed]: You always take my mp3-player.	2	You're always taking my mp3-player.
3	Sarah, not Tom broke the window.	3	It was Sarah, not Tom, who broke the window
4	Please come on Saturday.	4	Please do come on Saturday.
5	Teacher: You haven't done your HW. ▶ Ted: Yes, I did it.	5	... ▶ Ted: Yes, I did do it.
6	▶ I'm useless with computers. I can't even send an e-mail.	6	▶ I'm absolutely useless with computers.
7	You don't need make-up. ▶ You need some sleep.	7	You don't need make-up. ▶ What you need is some sleep.
8	I'm really tired of this: ▶ You never clean up after you.	8	... ▶ You're never cleaning up after you.
9	A: I can't believe she said that. ▶ B: Yes, she said it.	9	... ▶ B: Yes, she did say it.
10	We met on Tuesday, not on Wednesday.	10	It was on Tuesday that we met (not on Wednesday).

Didaktische Hinweise

english, grammar, exercises, folientraining